Motivation

- Rise of carbon trading and voluntary carbon disclosure in recent years (Hahn et al., 2015)
- Increased demand for environmental disclosure by stakeholders (Kolk et al., 2008)
- Establishment of carbon emissions as additional risk factor (stranded assets, divestment, carbon bubbles, etc.) (Bolton and Kacperczyk, 2021)
- Expectation about a positive relationship between voluntary disclosure and environmental (possibly also financial) performance of companies disclosure (Tang and Demeritt, 2018)
- Better financial performance of clean / reporting companies should be driven by changes in preference of investors (In et al., 2019; Görgen et al., 2020)
